

University of Hyderabad | Department of English

C T Indra Endowment Lecture

LITERARY THEORY AND ITS DISCONTENTS

OF IDEOLOGY CRITIQUE AND BEYOND

Speaker: Saugata Bhaduri

Venue:
ASIHSS Hall,
School of Humanities

Date:
18th February, 2026
Wednesday

Time:
2:30PM-4:00PM

Faculty Coordinator: Goutam Karmakar

About Saugata Bhaduri

Saugata Bhaduri is Professor at the Centre for English Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi, India. He has also served as Visiting Professor at many universities and colleges in Europe, UK, and the USA, the most recent one being the Erich Auerbach Chair of World Literature at the University of Göttingen, Germany, for the Summer Semester 2025. His areas of interest include literary and cultural theory, popular culture, translation and comparative literature studies, and the cultural history of colonial Bengal.

About C T Indra

C T Indra, retired Professor of English, taught in the Department of English, University of Madras, Chennai, India, for over three decades (1976–2008). She was a Fulbright Postdoctoral Fellow at Harvard (1980–81) and an American Studies Research Fellow at the University of California, Santa Barbara, USA (1990). C T Indra's areas of interest are Literary Criticism and Theory, Translation and Translation Studies, and Hagiography. Some of her published and translated works include Ramayana: A Comparative Study of Raamkathas, Colonial Authority and Tamil Scholarship: A Study of the First English Translations, and Routes: Representations of West in Short Fiction from South India in Translation.